

CALL FOR PAPERS: IJPS Volume 12, Issue 1

The importance of interdisciplinary partnerships to address interconnected local and global challenges has never been more pressing. The Interdisciplinary Journal of Partnership Studies (IJPS) invites scholars, practitioners, and thought leaders from all disciplines to submit original articles for our first issue in 2025.

We welcome submissions in a variety of categories including community voices, works of art, editorials, media reviews, case studies, reports of research and quality improvement projects, and practical frameworks. We encourage authors to engage with diverse perspectives and consider collaborative works that involve scholars from multiple disciplines or global regions. We especially seek articles that explore innovative interdisciplinary approaches to challenges locally and/or globally. These stories can be exemplars to others around the world tackling similar problems, enhancing global learning and the sharing of knowledge across borders.

The deadline for submissions for IJPS Vol. 12 Issue 1 is March 15th, 2025. All submissions in all categories undergo peer review. Please refer to our submission guidelines at pubs.lib.umn.edu/index.php/ijps/about/submissions. Questions about submissions for this issue may be directed to article should be addressed to Stephanie Gingerich at ginge018@umn.edu or Stephanie Doscher at sdoscher@umn.edu.

Stephanie Gingerich, DNP, RN, CPN, is a Clinical Assistant Professor, Specialty Coordinator of the Doctor of Nursing Practice Degree in Health Innovation and Leadership program, and Director of Global Programming at the University of Minnesota School of Nursing.

Stephanie Doscher, EdD, is Assistant Vice Provost for Curriculum Internationalization at the University of Minnesota.